

Camp Soles

Essential Eligibility Criteria

It is our desire to partner with parents and to work together to determine, prior to enrollment, if Camp Soles will be a positive experience and is suitable for your child. Please review the following essential eligibility criteria and make a responsible decision for your child.

- Camp Soles is not a therapeutic program and is not an appropriate choice for youth dealing with emotional, mental, social, or behavioral issues.
- Campers must be in good health, physically and emotionally, and can participate in a supportive community, in a positive and cooperative manner that displays tolerance and respect for self and others.
- Campers should have the emotional maturity to handle the sleep-away-from-home aspects of the camp program, including living independently in a group setting and taking care of their own personal needs.
- Campers must be able and willing to follow instructions and refrain from behaviors that pose a risk to self or others. Campers must use respectful language and appropriate physical behavior.

Decisions to accept campers are made on an individual basis. The Camper Profile you create upon registering will allow Camp Soles to understand your child. If you have questions concerning whether your child can be well-served by Camp Soles, please email fun@campsoles.org or call us at 412-213-5321 and we will arrange to have our Essential Eligibility Consultant discuss with you your child's enrollment.
